

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
------------------------	----

Preface

i. The purpose of this book	xiii
Abdolkarim Sadrieh and Joachim Weimann
ii. The beginnings of experimental economics as a field of research in Germany	xv
Reinhard Selten
iii. The Gesellschaft für experimentelle Wirtschaftsforschung in its 30 th year	ixx
Miriam Mezger, Abdolkarim Sadrieh, and Joachim Weimann
iv. Reinhard Tietz, a pioneer of experimental economics in Germany, celebrates his 80 th birthday	xxi
Abdolkarim Sadrieh

Part I Bounded Rationality and Depth of Reasoning

1. Semi-normative theories based on bounded rationality	1
Reinhard Tietz
Journal of Economic Psychology 13, 297-314, 1992
2. Unraveling in guessing games: An experimental study	17
Rosemarie Nagel
American Economic Review 85 (5), 1313-1326, 1995
3. Limited depth of reasoning and failure of cascade formation in the laboratory	35
Dorothea Kübler and Georg Weizsäcker
Review of Economic Studies 71 (2), 425-441, 2004
4. The decision maker matters: Individual versus group behaviour in experimental beauty-contest games	55
Martin G Kocher and Matthias Sutter
Economic Journal 115 (500), 200-223, 2005
5. Does money illusion matter?	81
Ernst Fehr and Jean-Robert Tyran
American Economic Review 91 (5), 1239-1262, 2001

Part II Voluntary Provision of Public Goods

6. Individual behavior in a free riding experiment 115
 Joachim Weimann
Journal of Public Economics 54 (2), 185-200, 1994
7. Cooperation and punishment in public goods experiments 131
 Ernst Fehr and Simon Gächter
American Economic Review 90 (4), 980-994, 2000
8. The competitive advantage of sanctioning institutions 151
 Özgür Gürerk, Bernd Irlenbusch, and Bettina Rockenbach
Science 312 (5770), 108-111, 2006

Part III Bargaining, Communication, and Coordination

9. Selection between Pareto-Optimal outcomes in 2-Person bargaining with and without the right to make a proposal 161
 Bodo Vogt and Wulf Albers
Homo Oeconomicus 18 (1), 77-92, 2001
10. Equitable choices in bargaining games with joint production..... 177
 Anita Gantner, Werner Güth, and Manfred Königstein
Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization 46 (2), 209-225, 2001
11. The sound of silence in prisoner's dilemma and dictator games..... 191
 Iris Bohnet and Bruno S Frey
Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization 38 (1), 43-57, 1999
12. Identifying cooperative behavior: Some experimental results in a prisoner's dilemma game..... 207
 Jeannette Brosig
Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization 47 (3), 275-290, 2002
13. Conventions and local interaction structures: Experimental evidence..... 223
 Siegfried K Berninghaus, Karl-Martin Ehrhart, and Claudia Keser
Games and Economic Behavior 39 (2), 177-205, 2002

Part IV Inequality Aversion and Reciprocal Behavior

14. On ultimatum bargaining experiments – A personal review249
 Werner Güth
Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization 27 (3): 329-344, 1995
15. The moonlighting game – An experimental study on reciprocity and retribution265
 Klaus Abbink, Bernd Irlenbusch, and Elke Renner
Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization 42 (2): 265-277,
 2000
16. The indirect evolutionary approach to explaining fair allocations277
 Steffen Huck and Jörg Oechssler
Games and Economic Behavior 28 (1), 13-24, 1999
17. A theory of fairness, competition, and cooperation289
 Ernst Fehr and Klaus M Schmidt
Quarterly Journal of Economics 114 (3), 817-868, 1999
18. ERC: A theory of equity, reciprocity, and competition327
 Gary E Bolton and Axel Ockenfels
American Economic Review 90 (1), 166-193, 2000
19. Distributional concerns: equity- or efficiency-oriented? 365
 Alexander Kritikos and Friedel Bolle
Economics Letters 73 (3), 333-338, 2001
20. Inequality aversion, efficiency, and maximin preferences in simple distribution experiments371
 Dirk Engelmann and Martin Strobel
American Economic Review 94 (4), 857-869, 2004
21. A theory of sequential reciprocity 389
 Martin Dufwenberg and Georg Kirchsteiger
Games and Economic Behavior 47 (2), 268-298, 2004
22. A theory of reciprocity419
 Armin Falk and Urs Fischbacher
Games and Economic Behavior 54 (2), 293-315, 2006

Part V Risk-Taking and Behavioral Finance

23. Inferring risk attitudes from certainty equivalents: Some lessons from an experimental study441
 Jan Pieter Krahen, Christian Rieck, and Erik Theissen
Journal of Economic Psychology 18 (5), 469-486, 1997

24. The disposition effect in securities trading: An experimental analysis457
 Martin Weber and Colin F Camerer
Journal of Economic Behavior & Organization 33 (2), 167-184, 1998
25. Money does not induce risk neutral behavior, but binary lotteries do even worse475
 Reinhard Selten, Abdolkarim Sadrieh, and Klaus Abbink
Theory and Decision 46 (3), 211-249, 1999

Part VI Auctions, Markets and Industrial Organization

26. An experimental analysis of auctions with interdependent valuations499
 Oliver Kirchkamp and Benny Moldovanu
Games and Economic Behavior 48 (1), 54-85, 2004
27. Stackelberg beats Cournot: On collusion and efficiency in experimental markets.....525
 Steffen Huck, Wieland Müller, and Hans Theo Normann
Economic Journal 111 (474), 749-765, 2001